The Wilcox New Venture Incubator Promotes Innovation
Located at Mosher Alumni House, the Wilcox New Venture Incubator is one of several initiatives offered by UCSB's Technology Management Program (TMP) aimed at supporting innovation, entrepreneurship and economic development. The incubator provides UCSB students, faculty, alumni and affiliates a variety of programs and resources to help them develop their new ventures. Programming includes the G2 Summer Launchpad, a startup accelerator designed to facilitate product commercialization and business launch. Startups in the incubator also benefit from TMP's network of mentors and angel investors.

Multi-Grammy award winner & founder of the Afro Latin Jazz Orchestra

Pianist and composer Arturo O'Farrill is the multi-Grammy Award-winning founder of the Afro Latin Jazz Orchestra, "one of the best jazz orchestras in existence" (The New Yorker). The son of jazz legend Chico O'Farrill, Arturo O'Farrill brings his sensibility as Afro-Cuban jazz royalty to weekly performances at New York's famed jazz club Birdland. Don't miss this cross-cultural, cutting-edge, 18-piece powerhouse outfit on tour, delivering their unique fusion of Afro-Caribbean rhythms and jazz improvisation "spiced with hints of avant-garde" (The New York Times).

"A masterful and adventurous big band that both champions the great tradition of Latin jazz and questions its own presumed stylistic borderlines." - Josef Woodard, SB News-Press

"Dedicated to both preserving the legacy of the elder O'Farrill and documenting the younger musician's efforts to move the music forward." - NPR
